The en-glement over Venezuelan relations was through all the properties of the subject of discussion, and while no roused was perceived for immediate signs. It was felt that the progress of the stairs concerning various powers in interest offered a delicate situation, with nom for troublesome developments. The action taken yesterday by the director of the Corn Products company in reducing the dividend on the preferred stock had a decidedly unfavorable influence especially coupled as it was with the company on conditions in that trade. In spite of all befowing reports of the enormous de-ue for its products, had a discourag-befort on the advocates of higher mist for its products, and a discouraging effect on the advocates of higher prices.

The merely nominal improvement indicated in the New York Central fiet emigraf on the March quarter, although compared with a period last year of extraordinary obstacles to transportation, was not relished. More attention was pale than recently to the apparently offerally imprired disclaimers of some of the lately prevalent rumors of intended divided increases and stocks which have moved under this influence were notably heavy. Importance was attached to the master from Albany, as promising the success of some of the measures of legislation which are feared for their effect on securities. The foreign news also falled to offset any sustaining influence for steeks, and some fears were reported of sher money, conditions in London, which would endanger the bopes of relief from that quarter by gold imports, which were beginning to be indulged.

A Russian loan was reported once to have been negotiated in France, and the immisence of another Japanese issue was also taken account of for the requirement on the money markets, especially in view of the reported participation involved shipments of gold to Japan.

The first transfers of currency through the sub-treasury to New Orléans for the season marked the beginning of another case of draining New York banking reserves. Sub-treasury requirements also falled to the reserves.

Many Fresh Eggs From Southern Utah

Hen Fruit Becomes so Plentiful That Merchants Begin Storing-Lots of Chickens.

Five hundred cases of eggs from south ern Utah have been received by one firm in this city. These are nearly all from the Sevier valley. The wholesale stores are now putting them away for winter use. There are also plenty for general and daily consumption. Chickens are agaiu plentiful. Today a large shipment of fresh fish will arrive. Already there are on the market the skate, at 15 cents a pound, the kingfish, at the same price, or two pounds for a quarter. Dealers hope to make up today for all this week's short orders, which were caused by the Pacific storms.

Letters on Stock Market.

James A. Poliock & Co., stock and grain rokers, 6 West Second South street, make public the following letters regarding the New profers. 6 west Second South street, make public the following letters regarding the New York stock market. Logan & Bryan, New York, say: "Throughout the session the market was under pressure, with an occasional fitful raily en which pressure seemed to be increased. Large interests undoubtedly have parted with the bulk of their holdings and the market misses support from this element. The foreign situation does not look any too strong. While rumers of peace between Russia and Japan are prevalent, nothing has developed to indicate that these reports have any basis in fact. In late dealings the report was circulated that trouble had broken out between this country and Venezuela, which alded somewhat in depressing values. The market in spots is closing somewhat higher than the low point, but at best it is only a feeble raily. The market does not look well and its action does not seem to hold out any immediate hope for sustained improvement."

Marshall Spader & Co. New York, say:

hold out any immediate hope for nustained improvement."

Marshall Spader & Co. New York, say: "The early trading gave evidence of considerable pressure of long stocks rather will distributed throughout the list. This wave of sailing seemed to be rather easily absorbed and the market displayed strength during the early afternoon. This did not endure long, however, and late trading was distinctly on very easy lines, led by the Steel shares and Union Pacific. The character of today's close gives no special indication of strength, and later developments will be required before a useful forecast can be made."

Dick, New York, says. 'The market has suffered another sharp decline today. Weakness was followed by a period of recovery, but on the raily stocks were for sale again, and in the afternoon there was a general outpouring of stocks, which caused a very sharp slump and a rather dengalited closing. There was no news and the selling represented urgent liquidation of speculative accounts, with some vigorous short selling. The weak closing seemed to Indicate lower prices temporarily."

with some vigorous enort setting. The weak closing seemed to indicate lower prices temporarily."

Hutton New York, says: "Today's heavy decline is absolutely unexplainable except for twe features, one the Venezuelan difficulty, which has not assumed any proportion to carse anxiety, and the other factor the carrying of heavy lines of epeculative issues by certain large operators here that have been pyramided. In the day's decline one thing was a fact, that every professional and trader in the street was a bear, and hence it is quite puzzling to know who bought the large blocks of important railway securities."

Meintyre & Co., New York, say: "The present selling movement and decline in prices is due to compulsory liquidation by a large number of pools and large local operators who had accumulated too heavy a line of stocks and were operating on the assumption that the call money market would continue with little change from the 2 to 2½ per cent rate which has been the average lest fall and winter. The advance in the reach the last few days to practically a 4 per cent basis has compelled such a shifting of loans by the various banks and trust companies that the class of operators have in turn been compelled to reduce very materially their loans and lighten their holdings of stocks. We think the movement is likely to prove of only moterate proportions and temporary, but a lower range of prices will probably prevail before the present seiling movement has run
